

Spring Series Race # 2

Revision Notes

Revision 0

7/3/2020 2:32pm

Two scoring processes were used to process the overall results of the Spring Series.

The processing software can be configured to how many races can be thrown out for the series but it cannot be changed for each individual class. We generally throw two races out if all five races have been successfully completed for each class. Our third race of the series was abandoned which would normally mandate that only one race could be thrown out. July 2nd (Race #5) had all classes finishing within the specified time limit with the exception of Jam B. Jam B as a result has zero available throw-outs.

To remedy the situation, the scoring results were generated once with one throw-out for Spinnaker B, Jam A, and Sport Boat. The configuration of the software was then changed to zero throw-outs and the results were regenerated. The data for Jam B was then cut and pasted over the original results for Jam B in the first generation results.

Revision 1

7/4/2020 9:24am

A scoring change for Jam B has been made in accordance with RRS Rule 35.

“35. TIME LIMIT AND SCORES

“If one boat sails the course as required by rule 28 and finishes within the time limit, if any, all boats that finish shall be scored according to their finishing places unless the race is abandoned. If no boat finishes within the time limit, the race committee shall abandon the race.”

This changed the listing for Jam B in Race #5, but did NOT change any positions in the final series overall results.

Revision 2

7/5/2020 2:35pm

A scoring change for Spin B has been made in regard to order of finish.

Yacht Escape finished before yacht Me II Too. This was confirmed by both skippers. The finish times were correct but due to darkness and sail color issues, the two craft were switched. This did not change the overall results in Spin B for the series.

Unexplainably, the positional change made in Revision 1 to Jam B reverted to the original order. This anomalous reversion did not affect the overall results for Jam B.

Please call me if there are any concerns over the scoring!
